Albacore (Thunnus alalunga) is a species of tuna in the family Scombridae. This tasty fish is shedding its image as just a canned tuna (we do carry a delicious canned option that's MSC certified!). With a mild flavor, Albacore cooks up firm and moist with nice large flakes. It's actually quite fatty, with the highest omega-3 of all tuna species.

Excellent grilled, seared, oil poached or roasted, Albacore is as versatile as other tunas. Customers will love Albacore's flavor and texture! It's a great, nutritious lean protein choice for people looking to eat lean.
