SANTA MONICA SEAFOOD®
Family Owned Since 1939

Lingcod

CHARACTERISTICS

As its name implies, Lingcod has a similar texture/ flavor to cod. It has lean meat that turns white when cooked, with a firm, almost dense texture. Ling cod has a deliciously mild, slightly sweet flavor.

FOR YOUR MENU

Feature lingcod like you would any firm white fish - it's great in fish-n-chips, perfect for chowder, makes great fish tacos and can be a great addition to any style of seafood stew.

FOR YOUR WAITSTAFF

Cod is one of our most beloved American fish - lingcod's flavor profile and texture are so similar to cod that your customers will be hard pressed to tell the difference! That is, it's mild flavored with a clean taste - perfect for even those customers who claim they "hate" fish!

FOR YOUR RETAIL DISPLAY

If you have customers looking for an affordable, mild and easy fish to work with - Lingcod is the perfect suggestion!

Species Name:

Ophiodon elongatus

Sustainability Rating:

Yellow - Good Alternative

What:

Actually a member of the greenling family, Lingcod isn't a cod at all, but gets its name from the cod-like appearance of it's meat.

When:

Available year-round as fresh and previously frozen (sold as refreshed)

Where:

Alaska, British Columbia, Oregon, Washington, California

How:

Wild-caught; longline, trawl