Harvested from the pristine waters surrounding the Coromandel Peninsula, the unique flavor of Coromandel Oysters is truly second to none. Its quality reflects the nutrient-rich and pollution-free area from which they are harvested. These tasty bivalves are medium-sized oysters that are about 2-3 inches big with deep cups.

Coromandel Oysters have a clean, fresh flavor with a rich, briny liquor, and a slight cucumber finish. Conditioned by a cold New Zealand winter, this will be the supreme “Gigas” oyster to make available to your guests during the warm months of the US summer. Since they are harvested during New Zealand’s colder months, they have a firm, plump and buttery texture.
